PRO: Combining world-class speed, durability and big-play ability, Chris Johnson is one of the NFL's top offensive stars. His 6,888 rushing yards from 2008–2012, his first five NFL seasons, ranked second in the league and ranked sixth in NFL history for a player's initial five campaigns. Johnson enters 2013 already ranked third in franchise history in rushing yards, rushing touchdowns and 100-yard rushing games, inching closer to Earl Campbell and Eddie George in all three categories. Also a threat in the receiving game, his 8,546 yards from scrimmage ranked fifth in NFL history for a player's first five seasons. The former first-round pick has the uncanny ability to score from anywhere on the field. Johnson's six touchdown runs of 80 or more yards from 2008–2012 are double what any other player in NFL history accomplished in a career. Also, despite a heavy workload throughout his first five seasons, he never missed a game due to injury. In 2009, Johnson produced one of the most extraordinary seasons by a running back in league history when he amassed a franchise-best 2,006 rushing yards and an NFL-record 2,509 yards from scrimmage.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Johnson is one of the NFL's most popular players on Twitter. He can be followed at @ChrisJohnson28. He also can be followed on Instagram at chrisjohnsontwo8.
- At his website, www.chrisjohnsonhq.com., Johnson has his own clothing line for sale. He launched the brand in December 2010, and it is also available at several retailers in the Nashville, Orlando and East Carolina areas.
- Johnson decided to attend East Carolina because the Pirates offered him the best opportunity to play running back. Other schools that recruited him wanted him to play cornerback. His versatility as an athlete came in handy as a junior at ECU when he played slot receiver to limit his cutting on a turf toe injury.
- This is not the first time Johnson has played for the Titans. He was a star running back and track athlete for the Olympia High School Titans in Orlando, Fla.
- At the NFL Scouting Combine in February 2008, Johnson was timed in the 40-yard dash at 4.24 seconds. While a few other players have been recorded at faster times at other venues using a handheld stopwatch, Johnson's time is the fastest in the combine in the last 15 years and believed by most to be the fastest ever electronically timed 40-yard dash at the combine, which began in 1982.
- Johnson, who was a star in track and field as well as football in high school, finished second in the 100-meter dash at the Florida state meet to Walter Dix, who went on to win the bronze medal at the 2008 Summer Olympics.
- In 2012, Johnson launched his own foundation, Team CJ2K (www.teamcj2k.org), to partner with Learning Through Sports, East Carolina University, United Way, Boys and Girl Club and Middle Tennessee State University to "deliver the most amount of help to the largest number of kids possible." Efforts will center on educational programs for underserved youth. In addition to pledging his own money for the cause, Johnson is hoping to get other individuals and businesses to pledge a certain amount for every yard he gains rushing the football.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Orlando, Fla., native was selected by the Titans in the first round (24th overall) of the 2008 NFL Draft.
