PRO BOWLS

2006

PRO: Vince Young possesses the skills to make him one of the NFL's most dynamic offensive weapons. The 6-foot-5, 232-pound signal caller combines natural athleticism with pocket presence and a strong throwing arm. The two-time Pro Bowler enters the 2010 season as the starter with hopes of leading the team to the playoffs for the third time in his five seasons.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In his first four NFL seasons (2006-09), amassed a 26-13 regular season record as a starter. His .667 winning percentage qualified as the best regular season winning percentage in franchise history and the fourth best among quarterbacks drafted between 2000-2009 (Brady, Rivers and Roethlisberger).
- Has engineered 11 career game-winning performances, leading his team to victory after a fourth-quarter deficit or tie, including six times in 2009.
- Started the final 10 games of the 2009 season, leading the team to an 8-2 finish after the club began the campaign 0-6. Named to the Pro Bowl after completing 152 of 259 passes for 1,879 yards with 10 touchdowns and seven interceptions for a career-high 82.8 passer rating.
- In 2007, directed the team to Wild Card playoff berth, becoming 11th quarterback drafted in first round since 1983 to lead his team to playoffs within his first two seasons.
- In 2006, was named Associated Press NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year, Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America Offensive Rookie of the Year, Sports Illustrated Rookie of the Year, Sporting News Rookie of the Year and Diet Pepsi NFL Rookie of the Year (fan voting) after setting every rookie passing record for the franchise, completing 184 of 357 passes for 2,199 yards and 12 touchdowns.
- Additionally gained 552 yards on 83 rushing attempts (6.7 avg.) in 2006, becoming first quarterback in Super Bowl era (1966-present) to rush for 500 yards as rookie. Tied for team high with seven rushing touchdowns, also first for a rookie quarterback in Super Bowl era.

TITANS TIDBITS:

- Young's personal website is www.10vinceyoung.com.
- Years before he was selected by the Titans with the third overall pick in the draft, Young formed a bond with one of the franchise's all-time greatest players, quarterback Steve McNair. McNair, 10 years older than Young and the No. 3 overall pick in the 1995 draft, served as a mentor to him since his sophomore year in high school. That is when Vince's uncle, Ivory Young, who became McNair's close friend in college, urged his nephew to attend the Steve McNair Football Camp. Because the mentor and apprentice shared similar upbringings, including special athletic gifts, lofty expectations and a lack of a steady father figure in each of their lives, a special kinship was born. McNair was heavily involved in Vince's life, and Vince often referred to the late quarterback as "Pops."
- In 1988, when Young was six years old, he was involved in an accident that nearly cost him his future. He was riding his bike near his Houston home when he was hit by a van. The accident caused serious intestinal injuries that Young battled for a year, and he still has a light scar running down his abdomen as a reminder of the incident. After he began his recovery in a hospital, a Houston television station produced a news segment featuring Young as a way to increase bicycle safety awareness.
- Young has always chosen jersey No. 10 because his mother, Felicia, has a June 10 birthdate.
- Young claims he received his sense of style, among other qualities, from growing up with his mother, grandmothers and two sisters, who not only helped raise him but were also quick to provide fashion tips.

- Among a diverse range of off-the-field interests, Young has his own meat company, Vince Young Foods (www.vinceyoungfoods.com), and also owns his own record label, Next Level Records (www.nextlevelrecordsinc.com).
- Young was chosen as the cover player for the video game Madden NFL 08, following Pro Bowl players from previous years such as Shaun Alexander, Donovan McNabb, Ray Lewis, Michael Vick, Marshall Faulk, Daunte Culpepper and former Titans running back Eddie George.
- With his mother, Felicia, Young established The Vincent Young Foundation (www.thevincentyoungfoundation.org) in 2006. The organization "is dedicated to improving the quality of life of underprivileged children with a special focus on promoting academic and athletic excellence." Through his foundation, Young has hosted a wide range of events in Tennessee, Houston and Austin and has also made numerous monetary contributions to several non-profits. His efforts include: an annual Community Unity Weekend that includes football and cheerleader camps, a celebrity basketball game and a charity gala; Christmas shopping sprees for Boys & Girls Club of Middle Tennessee members and families; the V YOUNG mentoring program; and a charity golf scramble with LP Building Products.
- Through his foundation, Young stepped up to help victims of the May 2010 flood in Nashville. He started a giving campaign that offered fans who made a $100 donation a personally-autographed Pro Bowl photo and a "Reebuild" T-shirt from Reebok.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS:

- The Houston, Texas, native was selected by the Titans in the first round (third overall) of the 2006 NFL Draft.
